I have to urgently fly to Omaha in Iowa from Cleveland, Ohio for an interview. How do I get quick and affordable air tickets?

You can refer to Optifly at their site <http://optifly.com> for travel reservations. It is a very comprehensive site with a lot of travel options. You can enter your start and finish destinations and pick from the choices available.

I would just recommend Globester.com if you want to keep your airline ticket budgeted. You can save huge amount of bucks.

You could also just look around at different places on their site, and maybe choose where you go by what you can find in your price range. I've been using their site for several years now, and have never had a bad experience, and have never stayed in a hotel since either!

I really like kayak.com and sidestep.com for the best, these are very comprehensive sites with a lot of travel deals. More helps on Google.
