
Questions about Berlin, Budapest, Prague

Posted by bopbop - 2010/02/24 21:00

Hi,

I plan to travel to these places alone around May. Was wondering if it wise to get around by taxi or not within the cities? Or too expensive? What about between the countries, would rail or flight be the best options? Also, was wondering what the main areas/downtown areas for each city is called? I want to be near tourist places and clubs and stuff. I don't want to be stuck beside some farm. :) Thanks.

I really suggest to hire a car instead of taxi, it will be cheaper and you will feel more independent. It's quite common in Eastesrn Europe countries that taxi drivers tries to cheat you and driving around one or 2 hours where it's 15 minutes drive. I think car hire with GPS is the best solution.
